Dramady Better Forever

Dramady is a two piece rock band from Portland, OR. The band consists of Amanda Mason Wiles (Rollerball, Six Foot Sloth) on bass, vocals, clarinet, and saxophone, and Zac Stanley (Narwhal vs. Narwhal) on drums, vocals, and keyboards. The music is highly rhythmic danceable pop with groove laden dub bass and melodic horns. Zac is pretty amazing to watch live as he plays drums, keyboard, and sings all at once while the crowds they play for on their two US Tours and many Portland gigs dance the night away (They shine at house parties). Dramady sound in love (which they are) and the cuteness shines through on these 10 tracks.

North Pole Records is proud to release this stoned out dance party on compact disc. Dramady joins the amazing roster that we are assembling over at NPR with Miss Massive Snowflake, Bill Horist, and Remora. Thanks for reading, now go and listen to the debut cd by Dramady "Better Forever".
